August 2017 Newsletter

Greetings!

If you are tired of hearing about our Trauma-Informed Care Learning Community, my apologies in advance. There's more news, and it's really good. The June 2017 Learning Community Summit Highlights video has just been released! It features eight of our agencies talking about the impact of the Learning Community. These are clips from the reporting-out that occurred at the Year-End Summit. You may see some people you know, and may see yourself if you presented. I could not be prouder of our participating agencies and their hard work. As I say in the video, when this many people decide that something is important, great things are bound to happen, and they certainly did! Watch the video here: 2017 TIC Learning Community Summit Highlights video

These are the first steps to developing a truly trauma-informed system of care in our tristate area. As you saw in the video, the work doesn't end at the end of the Learning Community year. It's an ongoing process. TTN will be continuing to support the 2016-2017 Learning Community teams by bringing them together periodically to share ideas and resources, and supporting their sustainability plans. They will also continue to have access to the National Council for Behavioral Health's tools, webinars, and list serve.

If you'd like to learn more about the Learning Community and discuss your agency's potential future participation in it, please email me and I will be happy to meet with you. The 2017-2018 cohort just started its 12-month journey at the beginning of the month. Thus the next opportunity to apply will be Spring of 2018 for the 2018-2019 cohort.

Thank you for your passion for trauma-informed care and I hope to see lots of you at our Fall Conference on October 30th!

Melissa Adamchik, Executive Director

Something New at TTN! Application for Website Resource Placement

*Tristate Trauma Network is committed to becoming the clearinghouse for resource and educational information related to trauma.
Do you have a Trauma-Related Resource that you would like to share?*

This opportunity is available to agencies who specifically work in the social services and health care industries. Tristate Trauma Network is the fastest growing connection for clinical and non-clinical persons seeking resources. We add new resources to our Resources page frequently. Check it out if you haven't visited in a while. If you'd like to drive more traffic to your website, this is a great way to do it. We have a mailing list numbering 2,000 and get over 700 visits per month to our website. Cost for this placement is $100 per fiscal year starting July 1st of each year. Application is required so that we can maintain our commitment to linking only to appropriate, quality trauma-related resources. After your application is reviewed by our Communications committee, you will be notified of acceptance and if accepted, will be directed to payment information.
